

2003 AWARD WINNER's LIST

EXECUTIVE EXCELLENCE AWARD:

- Executive Excellence

For your management and leadership abilities, which resulted with SSA having one of the largest and most reliable data networks in the Federal government.

James E. Preissner, U. S. Social Security Administration

Individual Winners

- Cost Effectiveness Excellence

1. For achieving significant cost effectiveness for USDA/NFC, through the use of the GSA/FTS MAA Contract.

Thomas R. Lutman, U. S. Department of Agriculture

2. For your noteworthy accomplishments in support of the FTS network in setting up and maintaining a telecommunications database that has resulted in significant cost savings to the U. S. Social Security Administration.

Robert Hammaker, U. S. Social Security Administration

3. For your outstanding commitment, technical vision, and innovative solutions in the management and administration of the FTS2001 telecommunications services and products for the Department of Justice.

Bernard R. Rudo, U. S. Department of Justice

- Management & Administrative Excellence

1. For your noteworthy accomplishments in support of the FTS network to ensure all SSA offices have continuous connectivity and funding so SSA can continue to serve the public.

Marilee Bowers, U. S. Social Security Administration

2. For successfully meeting the leadership challenges by managing the implementation of the ATM/Frame Relay Network for the U. S. Social Security Administration.

Roland S. Washington, U. S. Social Security Administration

3. For your noteworthy management in support of the FTS network to ensure all SSA offices have continuous connectivity and funding so SSA can continue to serve the public.

Pamela M. Copenhaver, U. S. Social Security Administration

4. For your noteworthy accomplishments in support of the FTS network to ensure that all SSA offices maintain connectivity.

Amy Ingram, U. S. Social Security Administration

5. For your noteworthy accomplishments in support of FTS network to ensure that all SSA offices maintain connectivity.

Debra Edwards, U. S. Social Security Administration

6. For your outstanding work in building the second generation of the educational Native American Network within the Bureau of Indian Affairs through the use of FTS2001 services.

Tim Lee, U. S. Department of Interior

7. For your exceptional accomplishments, technical vision, and managerial excellence in the planning, development, and deployment of the Universal Telecommunications Network (UTN) Survey of Business and Telecommunications Services requirements.

Valarie J. Burks, U. S. Department of Agriculture

8. For your dedication and exceptional interagency leadership in support of the FTS Net User's Group.

Shirley A. Kick, U. S., Department of Commerce

9. For your tireless efforts to service the US Nuclear Regulatory Commission's communications needs through FTS2001.

Benjamin W. Randall, Jr., U. S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission

10. For your invaluable dedication and contribution to the INS' Telecommunications Program and support of FTS2001 services.

Chuck Wokutch, Sprint

11. For your initiative and leadership in utilizing FTS2001 services, which resulted in improved communications for the U. S. Courts

John A. Cerino, U. S. District Courts

12. For your dedicated service and perseverance which resulted in the successful migration of FTS services and for your outstanding support and management of the FTS services provided to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Stanley W. Wood, U. S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission

13. For your leadership, dedication, and outstanding contributions in support of the Department of Commerce's successful transition to FTS2001.

Demetria Madison, U. S. Department of Commerce

Group Winners:

- Cost Effectiveness Excellence

1. For improving the processes involved in local telecommunications services that resulted in the agency saving $2,000,000 in local telephone service costs.

Clarence Foster, Anthony Vann, Roslyn Rus, U. S. Social Security Administration

2. For setting new performance standards in acquiring, implementing, maintaining, and troubleshooting a daunting range of constantly changing technologies in support of the Division Newport customers and for your innovative use of FTS services to provide consistently high quality, timely, and cost-effective support to the Division's nearly 3,000 personnel.

Robert A. Bernardo, Lou Ann Bailey, James P. DiPaola, Melvin Spence, Karen Lesieur, U. S. Naval Undersea Warfare Center, Newport, Rhode Island

3. For your outstanding performance in providing the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency with a very cost-effective and extremely reliable Wide Area Network. Your continued efforts in effective telecommunications program management significantly contributed to acknowledging FTS2001 as a contract of choice for Treasury.

Pamela J. Smith, Vera Swayne, Walter Knight, Sally Ross, Myron C. Lynch, Jr., U. S. Department of Treasury, Comptroller of the Currency

- Management & Administrative Excellence

1. For your outstanding work in implementing the Executive Office of Immigration Reform's IP based video conferencing system on the Justice Consolidated Network (JCN).

Allen Kurtz, Clyde D. Reese, Charles L. Smoot, Linda S. Garcia, David Cho, Lloyd D. Creger, Marsha L. Maddox, Duc H. Le, Jim Hamilton, Vladimir Nikanorov, U. S. Department of Justice

2. For your creativity, excellence, leadership, and dedication of a government/contractor team that made possible full implementation of the Justice Consolidated Network on time and within budget.

Joseph M. Dunn, Duc H. Le, Karen Beard, Michael Hemmesch, Kathryn Richardson, Jim Hamilton, Edna Groves, Roslyn Sanders, Virginia Martin, Mark Hollister, Jimmy Davis, William Spencer, Jerry Harms, U. S. Department of Justice

- Technical Excellence

1. For your innovative use of FTS Services in moving the Federal Judiciary's National Internet Gateways.

Steven D. Eiserman, Neal Dillard, Keith Dove, Diane Davis, James Alder, James Steadman, Dong Q. Luong, Georgia Blankenship, Administrative Office of the United States Courts

2. For improving the VA Enterprise Network and achieving operational efficiency to support modernization of the department's One VA Enterprise business functions.

Kelly R. Edwards, Kenneth Thompson, Steven Pirzchalski, Patrick J. McDonough, Chester Legensky, Richard Riley, Roger Taylor, Charles Fountaine, U. S. Department of Veterans' Affairs

3. For your innovative use of FTS Services to improve Remote Access Services for the Federal Judiciary.

Mark Thomas and Steve Escobar, Administrative Office of the United States Courts